CAPITAL CREDITS FAQs

What are capital credits?

Capital credits are each member's share of margins in proportion to the amount paid for electricity. This benefit represents member equity or ownership in the cooperative. Cooperative equity is owned by the members who also receive service. Capital credits are a benefit received for being a member of the cooperative.

Who makes the decision to refund?

The decision to make a refund is made by the Board of Trustees on an annual basis and is based upon the financial condition of the cooperative. Capital credit retirements are permitted by the code and the methodology is determined by cooperative policy. It also permits the refund to estates of deceased members.

What happens to my capital credits if I move out of Pioneer territory?

Capital credits assigned to you will remain in your name whether you are a current member or not. However, if you fail to maintain a current address and appropriate attempts to refund are returned as undeliverable, the capital credits associated with that refund are forfeited.
